Capovolto — Rules

Setup

Players take turns placing 18 polyominoes (shapes of 3–5 cells) onto the board (max. 11×11). Between the polyominoes, no more than 2 connected empty cells may be left.

Gameplay

The game is played over 6 rounds. In rounds 1–5 each player draws 6 discs from their bag and sets 1 of them aside in the stash for round 6. The remaining 5 are placed on the board in turn (Black starts).

Golden number on top: The golden side must always face up. For discs with two golden sides the player may choose.

Direction rule:

The number on the determines the direction for your next disc (measured from your own ring):

- Even number -> horizontal or vertical
- Odd number -> diagonal

The distance is free to choose. The very first disc may go anywhere.

So with your choice of number you can influence your opponent!

Flipping (Flip)

If after placing there are 4 discs on a line (horizontal, vertical or diagonal) with 2 of each color, all 4 may be flipped. The disc carrying the opponent's ring is protected. Any distance between the discs is allowed.

Epilogue

After all 60 discs, each player has 3 moves to shift discs from empty cells onto adjacent free polyomino cells. Flipping is possible here too.

Scoring

Whoever has the higher sum in a polyomino wins as many points as the polyomino has cells (3–5). For a supermajority (3+ discs in a 3-cell, 4+ in a 4-cell, 5+ in a 5-cell) there are 1, 2 or 3 bonus points.

Discs (30 per player)

9 types: 1/6×4, 2/5×4, 3/4×4, 4/3×3, 5/2×3, 6/1×3, 1/1×3, 3/3×3, 5/5×3. The last three have golden numbers on both sides.
